Short on time... but big on ambition?

Literacy focused, yet lacking the resource?

Want this to be the academic year that sees the ultimate in reading transformation at your school?

If you've nodded your way through these statements, and remain determined that 2023 should be the year your school sees true transformation in literacy, then read on.

At Lexonik, we know structuring, devising, planning and scheduling professional development for reading and literacy can be time consuming and tricky.

It's exactly why we've created the powerful and easy-to-adopt resource that we know as Lexonik Develop.

Lexonik Develop is an ever-evolving catalogue of masterclasses.

Each one focuses on the many aspects of reading and literacy to support your roll-out across the curriculum.

Our expertly curated Lexonik Develop sessions each take the form of a pre-recorded masterclass video, which last anything from 5 to 30 minutes.

This deliberate timing variation means you can deliver whichever you choose, in bite-size chunks or, should you prefer, you can combine them into a longer and larger professional learning event.

Currently there is a total of 8 professional learning masterclasses, with more being added throughout the year.

Suggested Flow or Sequence

The nature of our Lexonik programmes is that we encourage you to pick and choose the order in which you utilise the resources. Should you prefer a little guidance, however, our suggested flow for the initial 8 masterclasses is as follows:

How do we learn to read?

A 13-minute mini masterclass giving colleagues an initial insight into 3 central models of how we learn to read:

- The Simple View Of Reading
- The 5 Pillars of Reading
- Scarborough's Rope Model

Why should we teach vocabulary?

A 10-minute mini masterclass educating all colleagues on why explicit vocabulary instruction should be part of our classroom habits and teacher toolkit.

Also, how morphemic analysis can lead to independence and greater comprehension.

Explicit Vocabulary Instruction

A 20-minute masterclass taking colleagues through the process of how to explicitly teach vocabulary in any classroom via morphemic analysis and 3 key questions.

These pillar questions are:

- What does it mean?
- How do you know?
- Where's your mind going?

This masterclass is an essential introduction to begin a developing vocabulary instruction across any school or college, and is filled with practical classroom tips and habits.

Reading Fluency

A 20-minute masterclass introducing colleagues to reading fluency and the two competencies which make it up – Automaticity and Prosody.

Reading fluency is an often overlooked pillar of reading, but vital for comprehension and exam success. This masterclass gives colleagues knowledge as well as practical tips for the classroom.

Syllabification to aid spelling

A 7-minute mini masterclass handing colleagues one simple classroom technique that will change the way they teach spelling forever, and will make a huge difference to all students.

Questioning for progress

Professional learning on questioning is broken into 4 areas:

a) Research and different levels of questioning

A 20-minute masterclass focusing on research on questioning in the classroom, what is deemed as best practice, and the different levels of questioning for teaching and learning

b) Questioning the Lexonik way

An 11-minute mini masterclass supporting all teachers in how Lexonik use questioning in the classroom

c) Putting things into practice

A 10-minute mini masterclass giving teachers across the curriculum yet more classroom strategies for putting questioning into practice

d) Think alouds and self-questioning

A 12-minute mini masterclass helping with how to use questioning to aid independent learning through self-questioning techniques, including scaffolding for asking questions for both teacher and student

Phonics for Secondary

A 50-minute masterclass on this vital and often forgotten area of what phonics is and what it should look like in the secondary classroom. The masterclass covers:

- What phonics instruction looks like post-primary.
- Embedded classroom instruction.
- Benefits for both students and teachers.

Reading for Exams

A 20-minute masterclass specifically looking at tips to support reading for the GCSE exams.

While this in itself is a pretty extensive list, you can be sure our live professional development courses will be converted into our masterclass series throughout the coming year.

And, of course, you can add these to your CPD calendar with ease.

Up and Coming...

Here's just a quick tease of some of the courses coming your way soon:

Spelling

What is spelling? How to teach spelling in any classroom and how can it improve exam performance?

Supporting students with dyslexia

A three-part masterclass from Lexonik designed to help close the gap for all learners, including students with dyslexia.

Embedding reading

Support for leaders of literacy
